PASTOR'S MESSAGE / MENSAJE DEL PASTOR

Then Jesus straightened up and said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" She replied, "No one, sir." Then Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you. Go, and from now on do not sin any more." (John 8:10-11)

We all need the mercy and forgiveness of Jesus. I suspect that all of us have had our sins exposed at one time or another. We get caught in a lie, or a person walks in just as we are gossiping about them to another. We lose our temper and regret our outburst. If we have experienced these types of embarrassments, we have just a small taste of the shame and condemnation that the woman in our Gospel today experienced: of being exposed, vulnerable, and alone.

We can understand the feelings of dread and guilt that consume us when the light is shined on our lives. Every face seems to be judging us and we wish we could just run away and hide, or even disappear. Most people would be able to share some empathy for the plight of this poor woman.

Jesus is the one loving face in an angry mob. He finds a poor frightened woman isolated and convicted. He gently reminds the people of their own sins and secrets. The woman, like us, finds salvation in Jesus' gentle, loving mercy. In Jesus, she is restored and given another chance. This is her story. This is our story. A story the whole world needs to hear.

Remember not the events of the past, the things of long ago consider not; see, I am doing something new!
(Is 43:18-19)

* * * * *

Entonces Jesús se enderezó y le dijo: "Mujer, ¿dónde están? ¿Nadie te ha condenado?" Ella respondió: "Nadie, señor". Entonces Jesús dijo: "Ni yo te condeno. Vete, y de ahora en adelante no peques más". (Juan 8:10-11)

Todos necesitamos la misericordia y el perdón de Jesús. Sospecho que todos nosotros hemos tenido nuestros pecados expuestos en un momento u otro. Nos quedamos atrapados en una mentira, o una persona entra justo cuando estamos cotilleando sobre ellos a otro. Perdemos los estribos y lamentamos nuestro arrebató. Si hemos experimentado este tipo de vergüenzas, solo tenemos una pequeña muestra de la vergüenza y la condenación que la mujer en nuestro Evangelio de hoy experimentó: de estar expuesta, vulnerable y sola.

Podemos entender los sentimientos de temor y culpa que nos consumen cuando la luz brilla sobre nuestras vidas. Cada rostro parece estar juzgándonos y desearíamos poder huir y escondernos, o incluso desaparecer. La mayoría de la gente sería capaz de compartir cierta empatía por la difícil situación de esta pobre mujer.

Jesús es el único rostro amoroso en una turba enojada. Encuentra a una pobre mujer asustada aislada y condenada. Él le recuerda suavemente a la gente sus propios pecados y secretos. La mujer, como nosotros, encuentra la salvación en la misericordia gentil y amorosa de Jesús. En Jesús, ella es restaurada y se le da otra oportunidad. Esta es su historia. Esta es nuestra historia. Una historia que todo el mundo necesita escuchar.

No recuerden los eventos del pasado, las cosas de hace mucho tiempo no consideran; ¡Mira, estoy haciendo algo nuevo! (Is 43:18-19)

THIS WEEK'S LENTEN PRAYER

Dear God, In this season of Lent we're reminded of our own difficulties and struggles. Sometimes the way has seemed too dark. Sometimes we feel like our lives have been marked by such grief and pain, we don't see how our circumstance can ever change. But in the midst of our weakness, we ask that you would be strong on our behalf. Lord, rise up within us, let your Spirit shine out of every broken place we've walked through. Allow your power to be manifest through our own weakness, so that others will recognize it is You who is at work on our behalf. We ask that you would trade the ashes of our lives for the beauty of your Presence. Trade our mourning and grief for the oil of joy and gladness from your Spirit. Trade our despair for hope and praise. We choose to give you thanks today and believe that this season of darkness will fade away. Thank you that you are with us in whatever we face, and that you are greater than this trial. We know and recognize that you are Sovereign, we thank you for the victory that is ours because of Christ Jesus, and we are confident that you have good still in store for our future. We thank you that you are at work right now, trading our ashes for greater beauty. We praise you, for you make all things new. In Jesus' Name, Amen

Our Journey to our new home.

WESTGATE 1st Mass, September 30, 2006

HOMERS 1st Mass, December 24, 2006

192 STRIP MALL 1st Mass, December 2010

GLEN BROOK COMMONS 1st Mass, December 19, 2015

15551 BOGGY MARSH ROAD 1st Mass, ?????

The five years we spent at Zaks, which is what the strip mall on 192 was officially called, once again offered our little parish a mix of highs and lows. We had gone from a conference room at Westgate, where Father Steve's first Mass was (annoyingly) accompanied by country music, to a former BBQ pit...I mean restaurant...to a location that found our St. Faustina Parish located between a Tattoo Parlor and a Massage Parlor.

Father Jean and then Father Dave continued to lead us spiritually as well as guided our fund-raising efforts. The initial fund-raising group came together at this site and helped coordinate the Walk-A-Thons, t-shirt sales, a silent auction, and a parish cook book, to name but a few activities. Parishioners gladly paid a "fee" to put their names in beautiful registers (those books are currently in our parish office) helping to raise thousands of dollars during our stay at Zaks.

Our parish held its first Mission in that building thanks to the efforts of the late Dennis Coutu and his wife Judy. They introduced us to the Marian Fathers of the Immaculate Conception and the National Shrine of the Divine Mercy in Stockbridge, MA; the same organization that recently visited us on March 31.

There were only a few parking spaces available to us in the front of the building...and boy did our neighbors express their displeasure when we used more than our share, so most of the parking was done in the rear. Even though we had it all to ourselves, there just wasn't enough parking for our growing parish. Cars were parked in the lot, they were parked on the side, and they were parked on the nolls beyond the pavement. Getting in was a nightmare...getting out was worse! The only reasons there weren't any accidents, or major disputes, was because of the great efforts of our volunteer parking staff parishioners headed by Julius Aita, who you can still find every Sunday, right here at our current location, blocking off spaces for those with physical challenges and, more importantly, greeting parishioners.

And so, we got bigger and we moved on to our current spot, where our six-and-a half year stay has been our longest at one location. Each move has been an upgrade, but the dream of our own church building has always been a driving force for parish and our parishioners. With the land cleared and the excavation mostly complete, we are anxiously waiting to see the beginning phase of construction that will lead to our new church building.

JEAN-BAPTISTE DE LA SALLE

Jean-Baptiste de La Salle was a French educator and founder of the Brothers of the Christian Schools, also known as the de La Salle Brothers worldwide and the Christian Brothers in the US. This was the first Roman Catholic congregation of male teachers who were not priests, but devoted solely to schools, learning and teaching. He is considered the founder of the first Catholic schools.

Jean-Baptiste de La Salle was born at Rheims, France on April 30, 1651, the eldest of ten children in a wealthy, noble family with a successful winery business. One of his relatives was Claude Moët founder of Moët & Chandon. At age eleven, he received a tonsure which is shaving the hair as a sign of religious devotion as a monk would have. At sixteen, he was named Canon of the Rheims Church. On April 9, 1678 he was ordained a priest, receiving his doctorate two years later at the University of Paris. When his parents died, as the eldest, Jean went home to help with the education of his siblings.

Afterwards he started working with poor, uneducated boys. This was a time where schooling was a luxury for most middle class and poor people, so Jean decided to change the situation and start a community called the Brothers of the Christian Schools. He left his family home and gave up his position as Canon and his wealth. But his new community was opposed by church leaders who didn't like his innovative methods, among which was classroom teaching over individual instruction. Also, his family was upset that Jean lived with and worked with men of the lower class.

Jean wanted all students to obtain an education even if they could not afford this, which further alienated the church leaders. But Jean and his Brothers persevered and formed schools which taught in the vernacular instead of Latin, integrated students according to ability, included religious studies with secular subjects and involved the parents with the teachers. His Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools was finally approved in 1725. He established teaching colleges in Rheims, Paris and Saint-Denis, as well as throughout Italy. He also created a reform school for boys at Dijon in 1705, a program for training lay teachers and one for Sunday courses for working men. His agenda also included technical schools and secondary schools for languages, arts and sciences. All of these quickly spread through France and then to more countries.

Jean worked long hours and became exhausted, which caused him to die on Good Friday on April 7, 1719 at Saint Yon near Rouen, a few weeks before this sixty eighth birthday.

St. Jean-Baptiste de La Salle was canonized in 1900. His feast day is April 7. In 1950, Pope Pius XII named him as the patron saint of teachers. He was a pioneer with his training programs for education. La Salle University is a private Catholic university in Philadelphia, named after St. Jean-Baptiste de La Salle, which was founded in 1863 by the Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools.

In 2021 the International Lasallian Mission Web site stated that their order has about 3,000 Brothers, who help with overseeing over 1,100 education centers in eighty countries with more than one million students, together with 90,000 teachers and lay associates.
