Pastor's Message / Mensaje del Pastor

Jesus took Peter, James, and his brother, John, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. And he was transfigured before them; his face shone like the sun and his clothes became white as light. (Mt. 17:1-2)

The Transfiguration was clearly a frightening event for the disciples present. For us, though, hearing the story and placing it into the larger salvation story with which we are familiar can help us understand more about our Triune God. We see the divine person of the Son transfigured into the glorified body he will have at his resurrection; the same transfiguration that will occur at our own rising with Christ in our glorified bodies.

Today's Gospel tells us that, when the disciples heard the voice of the Father, they were very much afraid. But then Jesus came and touched them, saying, Rise, and do not be afraid. When the disciples raised their eyes, they saw no one but Jesus. If we want to know God the Father, we need only to look at Jesus. He is God's perfect and final revelation of himself; he is God's love manifested and dwelling among us.

Therefore, let us not misinterpret the power and love of God. As we receive Jesus in the Eucharist today, let us heed and trust in the Father's words to us: This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased; listen to him. Through the transfiguration of Jesus, we can come to better know our Triune God.

The one like a Son of man received dominion, glory, and kingship; all peoples, nations, and languages serve him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion that shall not be taken away, his kingship shall not be destroyed. (Dan 7:13-14)

* * * * *

Jesús tomó a Pedro, Santiago y su hermano, Juan, y los llevó solos a una montaña alta. Y se transfiguró delante de ellos; Su rostro brillaba como el sol y su ropa se volvió blanca como la luz. (Mt 17:1-2)

La Transfiguración fue claramente un evento aterrador para los discípulos presentes. Para nosotros, sin embargo, escuchar la historia y colocarla en la historia de salvación más grande con la que estamos familiarizados puede ayudarnos a entender más acerca de nuestro Dios Trino. Vemos a la persona divina del Hijo transfigurada en el cuerpo glorificado que tendrá en su resurrección; la misma transfiguración que ocurrirá en nuestra propia resurrección con Cristo en nuestros cuerpos glorificados.

El Evangelio de hoy nos dice que, cuando los discípulos escucharon la voz del Padre, tuvieron mucho miedo. Pero entonces Jesús vino y los tocó, diciendo: Levántate y no temas. Cuando los discípulos levantaron los ojos, no vieron a nadie más que a Jesús. Si queremos conocer a Dios el Padre, sólo tenemos que mirar a Jesús. Él es la revelación perfecta y final de Dios de sí mismo; él es el amor de Dios manifestado y morando entre nosotros.

Por lo tanto, no malinterpretemos el poder y el amor de Dios. Al recibir hoy a Jesús en la Eucaristía, escuchemos y confiemos en las palabras del Padre para nosotros: Este es mi Hijo amado, con quien tengo complacencia; escúchenlo. A través de la transfiguración de Jesús, podemos llegar a conocer mejor a nuestro Dios Trino.

El semejante a un Hijo del hombre recibió dominio, gloria y realeza; Todos los pueblos, naciones e idiomas le sirven. Su dominio es un dominio eterno que no será quitado, su realeza no será destruida. (Dan 7:13-14)

KNIGHTS DEDICATE MEMORIAL to the UNBORN

The St. Faustina Knights of Columbus, Council 14217, along with Assembly 3202 from Corpus Christi, in Celebration, dedicated the parish's Memorial Monument commemorating the Unborn, on Sunday, July 23, following the 11:30 Mass.

The ceremony, which was supposed to take place fully in front the monument, turned out to be a successful two-stage event due to heavy winds and a torrential downpour. St. Faustina pastor, Father Ramon Bolatete, as well as actively retired priest, Father John McNalis, recited prayers before parishioners and the Knights in the church.

Shortly after the ceremony, the skies cleared and Fathers Ramon and McNalis were able to formerly bless the monument and the 282 memorial bricks that have already been laid. The Knights then hosted a fellowship luncheon for those who attended the ceremony.

The monument was installed, on February 15. Later that month, Council 14217 presented Father Ramon with a $4,000 check from the funds that had been raised through the sale of the first set of installed bricks. The fund-raiser is on-going, and the Council will be presenting Father Ramon with another $4,000 check to be used towards St. Faustina Parish needs.

To view additional photos and information on how you can purchase a brick, please go to:

St. John Vianney

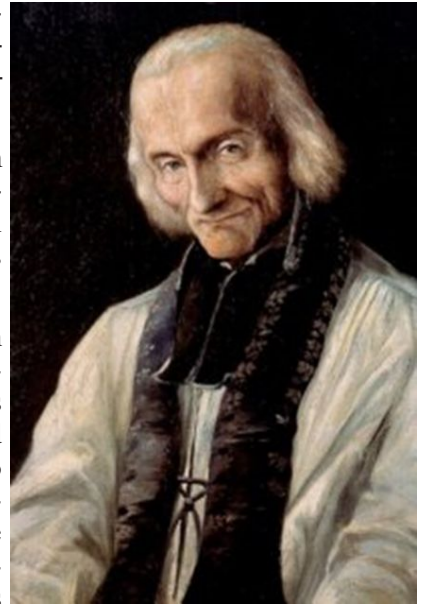

By Marylu Mariniello

Jean-Baptiste-Marie Vianney was born and baptized on May 8, 1786 in Dardilly, France. He was the fourth of six children. His parents, Matthieu and Marie Vianney, were very religious, raising their children as Catholics, praying daily and helping the poor. His grandparents offered Benedict Labre a place to stay when he was on his way to Rome. Years later Benedict would become a saint.

During the French Revolution, there was an "anticlerical terror" situation where priests were killed or had to work in secrecy. The Vianney family had to travel to different farms to hear Mass. This caused a young Jean to admire the priests as heroes. He was taught by nuns who had their convents taken away, receiving his First Communion and Confirmation secretly. Jean received his First Communion in a kitchen with blacked out windows so the candlelight wouldn't arouse suspicion.

At age twenty, Jean left the family farm to study at a "parish-school" in Écully, where he learned math, history, geography and Latin. The Revolution had disrupted his education, so he struggled with his studies now, especially with Latin. In 1802, the Catholic Church was reestablished in France by Napoleon, giving religious freedom and peace to the country.

In 1809, Jean was drafted into Napoleon Bonaparte's army. Since he was an ecclesiastical student, Jean should have been exempt from military service, but Napoleon had withdrawn the exemption in some dioceses because he needed more soldiers for his war on Spain. After two days in the service, Jean became sick and required hospitalization. When he recovered, Jean went to a church to pray and met a man who volunteered to return him to his troop, but instead led him the mountains where military deserters met. Jean lived with them for one year and two months, using the name Jerome Vincent. He began a school for children in the village of Les Noes. He remained there hiding when gendarmes came in search of deserters. In 1810 deserters were granted amnesty.

Jean returned to Écully to resume his ecclesiastic studies in 1812, attending a minor seminary with Abbe Balley and was ordained a deacon in June 1815. On August 12, 1815, he was ordained a priest in the Couvent des Minimes de Grenoble. His first Mass was celebrated the next day and he was appointed assistant to Abbe Balley in Écully.

Three years later, when Abbe Balley passed away, Father Jean was appointed parish priest of the Ars parish. He then established a home for girls in Ars called La Providence, with help from two women, Catherine Lassagne and Benedicta Lerdet.

As the parish priest, Father Jean realized many people in Ars were either ignorant or indifferent to religion because of the French Revolution. Many drank, danced and were idle on Sundays or worked in their fields. Father Jean delivered homilies against blasphemy and dancing. In confession, he would not give absolution if parishioners did not give up pagan dancing. He spent at least twelve hours each day in the confessional, working to help people to reconcile with God. In the summer months, he often worked sixteen hour days and refused to retire.

By 1827 his preaching made him famous causing people to travel to meet with him. Within thirty years, as many as 20,000 pilgrims came to see him each year. Father Jean was deeply devoted to St. Philomena. He built a chapel and shrine in her honor. Later he became very sick, but miraculously recovered. He attributed his health to St. Philomena's intercession.

By 1853, Father Jean wanted to leave Ars to become a monk but soon realized that this would not occur. He died on August 4, 1859, leaving a legacy of faith, being recognized as a champion of poor people. He was given the French Legion of Honour medal. Six thousand people attended his funeral with the Bishop presiding along with three hundred priests saying Mass.

Pope Pius IX proclaimed Father Jean as Venerable on October 3, 1873. On January 8, 1905, Pius X beatified him and on May 31, 1925, St. John Vianney was canonized by Pope Pius XI in 1925.

St. John Vianney is the patron saint of parish priests and is referred to as the "Curé d'Ars", meaning the parish priest of Ars. His feast day is August 4.
