Pastor's Message / Mensaje del Pastor

Jesus said to his disciples: "If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have won over your brother. If he does not listen... (Matthew 18:15-16)

Each of us has our own Christian "athletic" adventure of "running the race toward the prize of the eternal crown" as Saint Paul often analyzes (Cf 1Cor 9:24-25, 2Tim 4:7, Phil 3:14). This is a lifelong route along a path of moral living, striving for holiness. There are waystations designed to nourish and hydrate us: Scripture, Church teaching, the sacraments, and prayer, to name a few. They elucidate for us how to avoid sin and how to do good.

Jesus was raised learning all the precepts of the Jewish law - hundreds of commandments. As a faithful Jew, honoring the law was paramount for Jesus. In today's gospel, he is instructing his disciples on how to reprimand sinners. In this context, Jesus is proposing a more merciful way: talk to the sinner directly, then bring a witness or two along, finally involve the Church if necessary. Jesus' goal is not simply to reprimand the sinner but to rebuild the broken relationship.

The desire to correct stems from love, the manner of addressing it stems from and manifests love, and all of it is housed within the greater body of love - a community caring for and looking out for its members. The way of Jesus always promotes reconciliation and love. Saint Paul describes love as the fulfillment of the law. Paul tells the Roman church that all the negative commandments - what one should not do - can be achieved by the positive directive to love your neighbor as yourself.

Brothers and sisters: Owe nothing to anyone, except to love one another; for the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. (Rom 13:8)

* * * * *

Jesús dijo a sus discípulos: "Si tu hermano peca contra ti, ve y dile su culpa entre tú y él solo. Si te escucha, te has ganado a tu hermano. Si no escucha ... (Mateo 18:15-16)

Cada uno de nosotros tiene su propia aventura cristiana "atlética" de "correr la carrera hacia el premio de la corona eterna", como San Pablo analiza a menudo (cf. 1 Cor 9: 24-25, 2 Tim 4: 7, Flp 3:14). Esta es una ruta de toda la vida a lo largo de un camino de vida moral, luchando por la santidad. Hay estaciones de paso diseñadas para nutrirnos e hidratarnos: las Escrituras, la enseñanza de la Iglesia, los sacramentos y la oración, por nombrar algunos. Nos aclaran cómo evitar el pecado y cómo hacer el bien.

Jesús resucitó aprendiendo todos los preceptos de la ley judía - cientos de mandamientos. Como judío fiel, honrar la ley era primordial para Jesús. En el evangelio de hoy, él está instruyendo a sus discípulos sobre cómo reprender a los pecadores. En este contexto, Jesús propone un camino más misericordioso: hablar directamente con el pecador, luego traer un testimonio o dos, finalmente involucrar a la Iglesia si es necesario. El objetivo de Jesús no es simplemente reprender al pecador, sino reconstruir la relación rota.

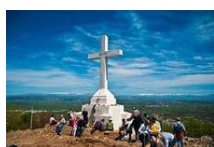

El deseo de corregir proviene del amor, la manera de abordarlo proviene y manifiesta amor, y todo está alojado dentro del cuerpo mayor de amor: una comunidad que cuida y cuida a sus miembros. El camino de Jesús siempre promueve la reconciliación y el amor. San Pablo describe el amor como el cumplimiento de la ley. Pablo le dice a la iglesia romana que todos los mandamientos negativos, lo que uno no debe hacer, se pueden lograr mediante la directiva positiva de amar a su prójimo como a usted mismo.

Hermanos y hermanas: No deben nada a nadie, excepto amarse unos a otros; porque el que ama al otro ha cumplido la ley. (Romanos 13:8)

Ministry Fair Update

(October 7th and 8th)

(Editor's note: While you are at our parish Ministry Fair, make sure you stop by and meet some of our younger parishioners at our Youth Group Table. They are excited to tell you about this ministry and to give you a preview of what they have planned for this school year.)

It all began with a simple statement, uttered after a Saturday class, "We should have a youth group." These words, spoken by Angela Francisco, the dedicated sixth-grade Religious Education teacher, set in motion the heartwarming journey of our youth group ministry.

Led by a passionate group of adults, our Youth Group is guided by the wisdom and care of Marylu Mariniello, Christina Lopez, Marylou Cavallini, Phyllis Cavone, Reynold and Tony Jean Franco, Kim Tettermer, Father John McNallis, Angela Francisco and Maggie San Filippo, with a very generous donation from Mr. Jeff

Rogers. Their dedication and enthusiasm have been instrumental in creating a safe haven for our teenagers to connect, grow, and serve.

At the core of this ministry is the profound purpose of fostering a sense of belonging among our teens. The transitional years between 14 and 17 can be both exciting and challenging, and our youth group aims to provide a community where they can find solace, share ideas, and collaborate in making a positive impact on others. Currently, our Youth Group boasts a dynamic cohort of 10 to 14 teenagers, each bringing their unique perspectives, talents, and energies. Together, they embark on a multitude of activities that reflect their creativity and commitment to both their peers and the wider community.

Throughout the year, these spirited teens will partake in a variety of engaging initiatives. With Halloween on the horizon, they are gearing up for an exciting Trunk or Treat event that promises to infuse a dose of fun into the season. But the giving spirit doesn't stop there. Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and Mother's Day all receive the youth group's loving touch. From festivities to pageants, egg hunts to flowers, their dedication to making these occasions special is palpable.

Reflecting upon their most recent gathering in May, a lively discussion took place over pizza. The consensus was to take a well-deserved summer break, recharging their spirits for the upcoming year. Their meetings will reconvene on the Sunday after Labor Day, where they'll chart their course for the future, deciding on the frequency of their meetings and the exciting plans they'll undertake. This meeting is scheduled for September 10, 2:00 – 4:00 PM.

And there's more to look forward to – our Youth Group is gearing up for a remarkable presence at the upcoming ministry fair. With an array of pumpkins, engaging games, captivating face painting, and thoughtful giveaways, they invite everyone to join in the festivities and witness the passion that fuels their endeavors.

In conclusion, our Youth Group ministry is a testament to the power of a shared vision and a caring community. Angela Francisco's simple idea has blossomed into a thriving haven for our teens, thanks to the dedication of our adult leaders and the unwavering enthusiasm of our young participants. As they continue to grow, learn, and give back, we eagerly anticipate the positive impact they will undoubtedly make within our church and beyond. So, stay tuned for the ministry fair – a forthcoming chance to celebrate, engage, and support our exceptional youth group.

GRANDPARENTS DAY

By Marylu Mariniello

It is the thrill of a lifetime to become a parent, but there is an even greater joy on being a grandparent. To see your child become a mother or father is remarkable. We celebrate Grandparents Day on September 10. The Blessed Mother's birthday is September 8, so there is a correlation there.

The ultimate role models for grandparents are St. Anne and St. Joachim, who were the parents of our Blessed Mother Mary.

Information about Mary's birth is not recorded in the Bible, but some early Christian authors did write about her. The "Protoevangelium of James," which was probably written the early second century, describes Mary's father Joachim as a wealthy member of one of the Twelve Tribes of Israel. He was rich, but also a pious man who regularly gave to the poor.

Joachim tried to offer a sacrifice to conceive a baby but was reproached at the temple for not being able to father a child, so he went off to the countryside to pray. Anne was still grieving, but solemnly promised God that if she could have a child she would dedicate the baby to the Lord's service. Both Anne and Joachim were still saddened because they were childless, but then they were blessed when an angel appeared to Anne and said "The Lord has heard your prayer, and you shall conceive, and shall bring forth, and your seed shall be spoken of in all the world."

This is a parallel of the barren Hannah and her conception of Samuel (1 Samuel 1) in the Old Testament. Hannah also dedicated her child to the service of God. The angel's statement prophesied that all generations would honor their future child, Mary.

Some accounts say that Mary was born in Sepphoris, Israel. A fifth century Basilica was built on this site.

Anne and Joachim began to pray and fast. According to the Protoevangelium, after Mary's birth, Anne made a sanctuary in the baby's room, allowing nothing common or unclean because of the special holiness of the child. The same writing states that when Mary was one year old, her father "made a great feast, and invited the priests, and the scribes, and the elders, and all the people of Israel."

The Protoevangelium also shows how Anne and Joachim, along with the temple priests, decided that Mary would be offered to God as a consecrated Virgin for the rest of her life and enter a chaste marriage with the carpenter Joseph.

Anne and Joachim knew that their daughter was special and put her needs before their needs. Mary's strong character in making decisions, her devotion to the laws of her faith, her unceasing practice of prayer, her calmness in moments of crisis and her love for her relatives show a close-knit, loving family. Anne and Joachim looked forward to the next generation even while keeping the best of the past.

St. Joachim is the patron saint of fathers, grandfathers, grandparents, married couples, cabinet makers and linen traders. During the Middle Ages, St. Anne became identified as a maritime saint, protecting sailors and fisherman, invoked against storms. She is the also the patron saint of unmarried women, housewives, women in labor, women who want to become pregnant, grandmothers, mothers, educators, horseback riders, cabinet makers and miners, as well as one of the patron saints of Brittany and Canada and many other cities in the world. Their feast day is July 26.

It is amazing to imagine the two of them as the grandparents of Christ. We think of Jesus and all he did for us, born humbly and dying a terrible death to save our souls, but he was also a little boy with grandparents who loved Him. How proud and grateful Anne and Joachim must have felt.

All of us who are blessed to be called grandparents should thank God every day for this honor. We should also say prayers to Saints Anne and Joachim to guide us to be as good as they were and know that one day our children will also become grandparents.

Have a blessed day and enjoy being with your families.
