11TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

This is how it is with the kingdom of God;
it is as if a man were to scatter seed on the land... and the seed would sprout and grow, he knows not how.

19: 4:26-27

El Reino de Dios se parece a lo que sucede cuando un hombre siembra la semilla en la tierra;
y sin que él sepa cómo, la semilla germina y crece.

A Message From Father Carlos / Un Mensaje de Padre Carlos

Mi querida familia de Santa Faustina,

Hoy Undécimo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario, la Palabra de Dios en la primera lectura tomada del profeta Ezequiel nos habla de la vocación de pueblo de Israel, que, a pesar de sus muchas infidelidades, llegará a dar los frutos esperados. La segunda lectura, tomada de la segunda carta de Pablo a los Corintios, nos recuerda que nuestra fe en nuestra esperanza en las promesas del Dios se convierte en confianza y en un deseo constante de perseverar unidos a Él. El Evangelio por su parte nos dice que somos para Dios semillas esparcidas en este mundo—nuestro deber es crecer, producir frutos y convertirnos en sembradores y seguir sembrando, o sea fieles discípulos misioneros de Jesús.

Una pregunta que nos debemos hacer cada uno de nosotros: en nuestra vida cotidiana, ¿descubrimos la fuerza presente del Reino de Dios? Es importante y necesario que descubramos esa fuerza. ¿Dónde podemos descubrir esa presencia? A través de acciones concretas, en la sencillez de actitudes llenas de humanidad, en palabras que hacen bien a quienes las escuchan. En todo eso y más construimos el Reino de Dios. Cuando miramos con los ojos de la fe, la vida de las personas que nos rodean, convencidos de que el Reino ya está entre nosotros y confiados en el proyecto de Jesús, se hace realidad el Evangelio de hoy.

Dios nos llama a la conversión. Su Reino tiene que comenzar en el interior de cada uno de nosotros, en lo profundo de nuestro corazón. La semilla está en la tierra, pero no todos somos capaces de escucharle a Jesús y unir nuestras vidas a su estilo. Hermanos y hermanas, ser DISCIPULO de Jesús, es escuchar y acoger su palabra, pero sobre todo ponerla en práctica y dejar que de fruto. Y es esta mi mejor motivación para todos los que hicieron su Confirmación este fin de semana. Muchas felicidades a ustedes, sus padrinos, su familia y a toda nuestra comunidad. ¡Animo!

Santa Faustina... Ruega por nosotros.

En Cristo,
Padre Carlos

My dear family of St. Faustina,

Today, the Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time, the Word of God in the first reading taken from the prophet Ezekiel speaks to us of the vocation of the people of Israel, who, despite their many infidelities, will come to bear the expected fruits. The second reading, taken from Paul's second letter to the Corinthians, reminds us that our faith in our hope in God's promises becomes trust and a constant desire to persevere in union with him. The Gospel, for its part, tells us that we are seeds scattered in this world. For God, our duty is to grow, bear fruit, become sowers, and continue sowing, that is, faithful missionary disciples of Jesus.

We should ask ourselves: in our daily lives, do we discover the present strength of the Kingdom of God? We must discover this power. Where can we find out this presence? Through concrete actions, in the simplicity of attitudes full of humanity, and in words that do good to those who listen to them. In all this and more, we build the Kingdom of God. When we look with the eyes of faith at the lives of the people around us, convinced that the Kingdom is already among us and confident in Jesus' plan, today's Gospel becomes a reality.

God calls us to conversion. His Kingdom must begin within each one of us, in the depths of our hearts. The seed is in the ground, but not all of us are able to listen to Jesus and unite our lives in his way. Brothers and sisters, to be a DISCIPLE of Jesus is to listen and welcome his word, but above all, to put it into practice and let it bear fruit. And this is my best motivation for all those who made their Confirmation this weekend. Congratulations to you, your godparents, your family, and our whole community. Cheer up!

Saint Faustina... Pray for us.

In Christ,
Father Carlos

Our St. Faustina Knights of Columbus in Action — From participating in Laps4Life to honoring the memories of our deceased veterans to doing electrical work to light up our Parish’s roadside sign, it’s been a busy few months for the Knights of Columbus St. Faustina Council.

Our Knights of Columbus St. Faustina Council (14217) participated in Laps4Life held last March 2, 2024, at Bishop Moore High School, marking the second time the council participated in this fundraising event. The council opted for the Aid and Support After Pregnancy (ASAP) program, of which the South Lake Pregnancy and Family Care Center is the beneficiary. The Knights presented the check to Jessica Aybar, one of the Center’s Directors, on Tuesday, May 21, 2024. To learn more about the Center and its mission, visit <https://slpfcc.com/aboutus>.

The Knights of Columbus St. Faustina Council celebrated Memorial Day with a Service after the 9:30 a.m. Mass on Sunday, May 26. Members of the Knights and St. Faustina parishioners attended the service at the Parishioners' Memorial Monument of the Unborn, also known as the St. Faustina Memorial Garden. Fr. John McNalis led prayers at the service, Grand Knight Ed Rabelas and Deputy Grand Knight Robert Crais, Jr. laid the wreath, and Brother Knight Jim Odell, Chairman of the Memorial Service Committee, gave the concluding remarks.

On Saturday, June 1, our Knights installed the necessary electrical components to illuminate our parish sign facing Rte. 27. This significant project is now ready to serve its purpose, thanks to their Brother Knight Volunteers: Matt Bright, Robert Crais Jr, Rene Crais, Edgardo Alva Fossa, Fr. John McNalis, Mike Muller, Jim Odell, Ed Rabelas, Joaquin Rodrigues, and our contractor Marvin Carter for helping install the light posts.

St. Norbert

By Marylu Mariniello

Norbert was born in 1080 at Xanten in the Duchy of Cleves. His father was Heribert, the Count of Gennep, who was related to the emperor. His mother was also of the aristocracy, belonging to the House of Lorraine. Besides his pedigree, Norbert was extremely bright and athletic. He was educated at the Church of St. Victor in Xanten and became a canon there. An accomplished scholar, he enjoyed the life of his stature. He also became a sub-deacon but still was more concerned with worldly pleasures. As a canon, he prayed the Divine Office every day with the other canons, receiving a salary for this, which was the main reason he accepted the position. Then, he discovered a way to increase his income by paying someone to take his place to say the prayers every day.

Norbert moved on to the court of the Prince-Archbishop of Cologne and then became a member of the court of Holy Roman Emperor Henry V, who appointed Norbert as his almoner, the person in charge of distributing the royal charities. The income from his two positions gave Norbert a very comfortable lifestyle. At the court, he witnessed an ongoing feud between the Pope and the emperor. In 1111, Henry V traveled to Rome to address a disagreement called “the lay investiture controversy.” He wanted to keep the spiritual authority to appoint and invest bishops, but the Pope did not agree so Henry captured the Pope and held him hostage until the emperor received his terms. The Pope agreed but then excommunicated Henry. Norbert sympathized with the Pope and was disturbed by this controversy, giving him a moral awakening. Soon after, while riding to Freton in Westphalia with his servant, a violent storm ensued. Suddenly a ball of fire and thunder occurred and his horse threw Norbert to the ground, where he stayed for about an hour. When he woke up, he said, “Lord, what wouldst thou have me to do?” God replied “Turn away from evil, and do good: seek after peace, and pursue it.”

This caused Norbert to repent at that spot. He never returned to court, leaving for the canonry at Xanten to live in silence. He wore a hair shirt, spending time praying and meditating and reviewing his past life, grateful that he was spared from an eternity in hell. He made a retreat to St. Sigebert's monastery near Cologne, where he began studying for the priesthood and was ordained. Then he went on a forty-day retreat to pray and fast, saying his first Mass. His sermons converted many.

In 1118, Norbert sold his estate, gave away his belongings and began a new adventure. He kept a small amount of funds, vestments, altar cloths and a mule, traveling to St. Giles in Languedoc while barefoot to see Pope Gelasius II. There he bowed to the Pope and confessed all of his sins. Then he became a preacher, reaching out to many regarding repentance, drawing large crowds.

Pope Calixtus II was now reigning and met with Norbert, who told him to start a religious order. Father chose a small chapel in Premontre, located in a valley in the forest. There, the Bishop built a monastery where men started to join in 1121. They wore a white habit, following the Rule of St. Augustine and living an austere life, called the Canons Regular of Prémontré or the Premonstratensians. Later, the name was changed to the Norbertines after their founder. After a few years, women's branches were established, with more than dozens of monasteries built in France, Germany and Belgium.

Father continued to travel and preach. While in Antwerp, he discovered a heretical itinerant preacher named Tanchelm, who denied the true presence of Christ in the Eucharist. He had a large following who believed him and they confiscated, desecrated and discarded the Eucharist to secret areas. Father Norbert preached against this and won over many of the followers, telling to gather up the desecrated hosts, which were unsoiled despite being thrown into the dirt. The hosts were gathered, and Father carried them back to the local church. Because of this, he is often depicted carrying a monstrance or ciborium containing the Blessed Sacrament.

In 1126, Father Norbert and his companions traveled to Rome for the final papal approval for his new order from Pope Honorius II. Coming home, they traveled through Würzburg, where Father cured a blind woman while also casting out demons and restoring peace between feuding noble families. The people from Magdeburg wanted him to be appointed as their bishop. The Pope appointed Father as the Archbishop of Magdeburg, which Norbert reluctantly accepted. He served in this position for about eight years until his death. During this time, he worked on reforming the immoralities among the clergy, resolving schisms, helping his Order to grow, preaching to the people, converting many and securing the right of the self-governing of the Church to without the civil interference.

Norbert is the patron saint of expectant mothers and Bohemia. His feast day is June 6.
