A Message From Father Carlos / Un Mensaje de Padre Carlos

Mi querida familia de Santa Faustina,

La Palabra de Dios de este fin de semana gira en torno al tema evangélico de Jesús como "pan de vida". Solo Jesús, es capaz de satisfacer nuestra hambre de Dios y el hambre de sentido y verdad que él ha puesto en nuestro corazón. Es por esto que la fe se convierte en la condición imprescindible para reconocer a Jesús como respuesta a nuestra necesidad. Una Fe que nos lleva a descubrirlo no en la superficie de las cosas que pasan, sino en la profundidad de una presencia capaz de transformar nuestra historia.

El tema central de la Primera lectura y el Evangelio es la fe, pero vista desde una perspectiva diferente a la del domingo anterior. El domingo pasado escuchamos que la fe es el resultado del signo dado por Jesús, en donde él realiza el milagro para despertar la misma. Esta semana Jesús dice no se puede creer y aceptar el milagro sin tener fe. No hay contradicción: estos son dos aspectos complementarios de la fe, como docilidad a Dios y como adhesión a su persona. Si el corazón se abre de par en par por la fe, la confianza y el amor, entonces Cristo puede entrar con toda la riqueza de su gracia, la abundancia de los dones sobrenaturales que brotan de la celebración de sus Misterios y que permite a los justos vivir por ella.

La tarea de Jesús es despertar en todos sus hijos un hambre más profunda; "No solo de pan vive el hombre". Jesús no habla sólo del pan de cada día, habla del pan para la vida eterna, habla de sí mismo, de su presencia escondida en el pan de la Eucaristía. Hermanos y hermanas recordemos siempre que el verdadero pan de vida bajado del cielo, el que nos da la fortaleza para manifestar las grandezas de Dios en nuestra vida diaria, es Jesús. Él te espera cada semana y quiere que abras tu corazón de par en par para poder trabajar en ti. Y si todavía no has vuelto a la Misa, Jesús y tus hermanos te esperan. ¡Animo!

Santa Faustina... Ruega por nosotros.

En Cristo,
Padre Carlos

My dear St. Faustina family,

This weekend's Word of God revolves around the Gospel theme of Jesus as the "bread of life." Only Jesus satisfied our hunger for God and the hunger for meaning and truth that he has placed in our hearts. This is why faith becomes the indispensable condition for recognizing Jesus as the answer to our need. A faith that leads us to discover him not on the surface of things that happen, but in the depth of a presence capable of transforming our history.

The central theme of the First Reading and the Gospel is faith, but seen from a different perspective from the previous Sunday. Last Sunday, we heard that faith is the result of the sign given by Jesus, where he performs the miracle to awaken faith. This week, Jesus says you cannot believe and accept the miracle without faith. There is no contradiction: these are two complementary aspects of faith: obedience to God and adherence to his person. If the heart is opened wide by faith, trust, and love, then Christ can enter with all the richness of his grace and the abundance of supernatural gifts that flow from the celebration of his mysteries, enabling the righteous to live by them.

Jesus' task is to awaken in all his children a deeper hunger; "Man does not live by bread alone." Jesus does not speak only of the daily bread, he speaks of the bread for eternal life, he speaks of himself, of his presence hidden in the bread of the Eucharist. Brothers and sisters, let us always remember that the true bread of life come down from heaven, the one who gives us the strength to manifest the greatness of God in our daily life, is Jesus. He waits for you every week and wants you to open your heart wide so that he can work in you. And if you have not yet returned to Mass, Jesus and your brothers are waiting for you. Courage!

St. Faustina... Pray for us.
In Christ,
Father Carlos

Blessed Solanus Casey

By Marylu Mariniello

Bernard Francis Casey was born on November 25, 1870, on the family farm in Oak Grove, Wisconsin. He was the sixth of sixteen children born to Bernard Casey and Ellen Murphy. He was baptized a month later, and his nickname was Barney.

In 1878, Bernard became sick with diphtheria, which permanently damaged his voice, impairing his speech. A while later, the family moved to Hudson, where he began to attend St. Mary's school, but then had to leave when his family relocated to Burkhardt. When he was seventeen, Bernard started a series of jobs including lumberjack, hospital orderly, prison guard and streetcar driver. He knew some of Jesse James' crew from his prison work. At his last job on the streetcar, he saw a drunken sailor holding a knife over a bleeding woman. This caused him to think about his life. He had considered marriage but now knew that he wanted to become a priest. His education was minimal, so he enrolled in St. Francis High School Seminary, which was a minor school for the priesthood training. He was not fluent in German and Latin, so the classes were a struggle for him.

He left the seminary to rethink his future. One day while he was looking at a statue of the Blessed Mother, he heard her say "go to Detroit." There he applied to the Order of Friars Minor Capuchin, was enrolled on January 14, 1897 and made his vows the following July. His new name was Solanus, after St. Francis Solanus, a violin lover like Bernard. His studies were difficult for him, but he was ordained a priest on July 24, 1904, becoming a "simplex priest" because he didn't do well with his classes. This meant that he could not preach at Mass or hear confessions.

Father Solanus served for twenty years in different friaries in New York. His first assignment was at Sacred Heart Friary in Yonkers, then he went to Manhattan, serving at St. John's Church near Penn Station and afterward to Our Lady Queen of the Angels in Harlem.

He had the gifts of a healer and spiritual counselor, which was recognized by many. In August of 1924, Father was transferred to St. Bonaventure convent in Detroit. He served there until 1945, working as a porter, receptionist, teacher, and doorkeeper. Every Wednesday afternoon, he ran services for the sick which many attended. He became known for his great compassion and simple holiness. People considered him profound in cures and blessings. He always knelt before the Eucharist at night.

During his time at St. Bonaventure, he formed the Capuchin Soup Kitchen in 1929 to provide food for the poor during the Great Depression. Father Casey is considered one of the founders of the soup kitchen, which still exists today throughout the country. One of his students was Janis James De Gennaro, who attended St. Philip Neri school in Detroit in the forties, also volunteering to work in the soup kitchen. Janis is Kelly Mucci's mother.

Father played the violin, playing Irish songs for his fellow friars during recreation time. He was not exceptionally gifted and had a poor singing voice from his childhood illness, but he loved music. He often played in the chapel in front of the tabernacle. Father also enjoyed tennis and volleyball, but he was a poor eater.

By 1946, Father had eczema over most of his body, and his health was failing. He was transferred to the Capuchin Novitiate of St. Felix in Indiana, staying there for eleven years. Then, in 1957, he was brought to a hospital due to food poisoning. After his release, people saw that he was walking more slowly and scratching his legs. This led to a raw and infected skin, putting him back in the hospital. The doctors diagnosed him with erysipelas or psoriasis, which could not be treated. They considered an amputation. The sores began healing, but Father was starting to deteriorate. On July 2, 1957, he was sent back to the hospital for his skin problems. He died on July 31, 1957 from erysipelas. A plaque was placed outside of the door of the room. His last words were, "I give my soul to Jesus Christ."

Over twenty thousand people filed past his coffin before his funeral and burial in the cemetery of his monastery in Detroit. His remains were exhumed and reinterred inside the chapel at Saint Bonaventure Monastery, which eventually became part of the Solanus Casey Center. In his death, there were no signs of the skin disease which afflicted him. He was clothed in a new habit before reinterment in a steel casket at the north transept. Many miraculous cures were attributed to his intercession during his life and death, but Rome officially recognized only one.

His cause for beatification began in Detroit in 1976. An investigation started with interviewing witnesses and documenting the information, which was validated by the Congregation for the Causes of Saint in November of 1986. In 1995, the advisors endorsed the report, with the cardinal and bishop members of the congregation also approving. He was declared a Servant of God in 1982, and Pope John Paul II declared him Venerable in 1995.

Father's miracle was curing Paula Medina Zarate, who had ichthyosis, a genetic skin condition. This occurred in 2012. The Archdiocese of Detroit investigated this miracle, which was accepted and forwarded to Rome in 2015 and approved on May 2, 2017. On November 18, 2017, Pope Francis beatified Father Solanus Casey at Ford Field in Detroit in front of seventy thousand people. Father is now "Blessed" and is one step closer to sainthood.

There is a new residence hall at the Franciscan University of Steubenville named Blessed Solanus Casey Hall. The Solanus Casey Center in Detroit is run by the Capuchin Friars of Detroit, which has a museum attached. The Solanus Casey Center in Seattle, Washington, is a resource center for the homeless run by the St. James Cathedral.
